

Vast Potential Foreseen For Seaway Ports

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Michigan State University professor said Friday the area served by the St. Lawrence Seaway has a vast industrial potential it has not yet begun to realize.

Dr. John L. Hazard, professor of transportation at MSU, spoke to 225 delegates to the one-day Institute of the St. Lawrence Seaway, sponsored by the Great Lakes Commission to review seaway tolls.

Central Canada, the Midwest and the Mississippi Valley areas are coalescing into a tremendous regional entity with industrial production greater than that of the whole Soviet Union, Hazard said. The needs for the region's industrial products and the availability of iron ore and other resources in eastern Canada give great promise for the future, Hazard said.

Earlier E. B. Griffith, general manager of the Toronto Harbor Commissioners, forecast direct overseas trade would contribute heavily to development of the area served by Great Lakes ports.

In each section of the Great Lakes Basin, there has been at least one port which has kept pace with the growth of this trade, Griffith said.

In relation to the traffic handled, there are few facilities offered at the Atlantic Seaboard which cannot be matched in the progressive ports in the Great Lakes area," Griffith said.

Louis C. Purdy, general manager of the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority, said the seaway's potential for transportation of government cargo has not been fully recognized.

Purdy said it is inconceivable how, out of 7.5 million tons of goods the defense department annually ships out of the United States, only "a paltry average of 100,000 tons a year" has moved through Great Lakes ports since the seaway opened in 1959. And 40 per cent of the goods shipped to foreign ports are manufactured in the Great Lakes region, he added.

Tough Sgt. York Returns To Farm

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—Tough old Sgt. Alvin York has fought off another illness and gone back to his farm home in Pall Mall, Tenn.

The 76-year-old hero of World War I entered the Jamestown hospital two weeks ago, suffering from dehydration and in a semicomatose. It was the eighth time he has been in the hospital in 18 months.

Dr. Guy Pinckley said York hasn't fully recovered, but that his condition is much improved. He was discharged from the hospital Friday.

York won the Congressional Medal of Honor in 1918 after he single-handedly killed 25 Germans and captured 132 in the Argonne Forest.

CROWN PRINCE Constantine, 23, (right) is the new King of Greece, succeeding his father, King Paul, 62, who died Friday. (AP Wirephotos)

Greek Populace Hails New King

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—In a hearse with drawn black curtains, the body of King Paul was brought to Athens today to lie in state. Behind it rode his popular, 23-year-old son, now King Constantine, whose accession to the throne in time of crisis tempered the grief of the nation.

Paul's body was taken from suburban Tatol Palace to the Royal Palace in the center of this capital. It was placed in the main ceremonial hall, where three hours after Paul's death Friday night Constantine took his oath to defend the Greek nation and the orthodox faith. It will remain there until Monday when it will be moved for public viewing at the Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

Hundreds of Greeks lined the road from Tatol Palace to see the motorcade bearing the body. With Constantine was his mother, Queen Frederika. Constantine's fiancée, Princess Anne Marie of Denmark, and his sister, Crown Princess Irene, rode behind them.

The Greek public appeared to have confidence in Constantine, now the world's youngest reigning monarch, in an hour of national crisis over the dispute between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

King Paul, 62 and in the 17th year of his reign, died Friday of a series of complications arising after surgery for a stomach ulcer Feb. 21.

Women wept in the streets as church bells tolled and a cannon atop Lycabettus Hill boomed an hourly salute to the dead ruler.

Expressions of regret poured in from world leaders, including President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant.

Constantine took the oath of service to the Greek people in a solemn candlelight ceremony in the Athens Palace Friday night and his first broadcast to his people was a message from the death chamber of his father: "This morning I conveyed to my father the feeling of the Greek people who were praying for him and my father said: 'I thank them and say goodbye to them'."

At King Paul's bedside with Constantine in the last moments were Queen Frederika, now the queen mother, and Constantine's 22-year-old sister, Princess Irene, now the crown princess and next in line for the throne as long as the new ruler remains childless.

Constantine is engaged to beautiful Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark, 17. They will be married in January unless court mourning interferes.

Paul's body was prepared for burial at Tatol Palace, then was borne into Athens by motorcade today. It will lie in state two days at the Athens Palace. Monday the body will be moved to Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox Cathedral, for three more days of tribute.

Constantine and other members of the royal family rode directly behind the hearse with drawn black curtains. Hundreds of Greeks watched solemnly from the roadside.

The cream of Europe's royalty is expected in Athens Thursday for the state funeral. Paul will be buried on the Tatol Palace grounds.

Introduced this year after an earlier proposal failed in the second special session of 1963, the proposal carries a high priority from Gov. George W. Romney.

At present, it is in the House Ways and Means Committee. Unless it is approved, Lesinski said, "appeals as a matter of right — also provided for in the new constitution — are just going to absolutely break down."

A flat denial of Lesinski's charge came from Rep. G. Bassett, R-Jackson, Speaker Pro Tem and a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

"It sounds to me like a self-serving declaration on his part — to justify his position on the apportionment resolutions and to get some publicity," said Bassett. "He has a personal interest in the court bill."

Bassett said the House GOP caucus had discussed the court bill but had not taken any position on what action to endorse. "There are some 1,450 bills in the legislature. They can't all be considered on the same day," said Bassett.

Romulus Youth Held In Slaying Of Stepfather

ROMULUS (AP)—State police held 17-year-old Ronald Koppes of Romulus for investigation today in the fatal shooting of his stepfather.

Ronald told officers his stepfather, Lloyd Hansen, 45, had threatened to beat him and his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hansen, 36, Friday night. He said he took a shotgun he thought was unloaded, intending to scare Hansen, he told officers. Ronald told police that as Hansen came toward him, he pulled the trigger twice and the gun fired its single charge the second time.

Officers said Ronald told of being "picked on" by Hansen and of leaving their trailer home twice Friday night because of arguments.

Tiff Continues In Lansing On Election Mixup

LANSING (AP)—Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski accused House Republican leaders Friday of trying to force Democrats to accept a legislative apportionment scheme by holding up progress on a court of appeals bill.

The effort, Lesinski said, is being directed at him personally "because the Republicans think I am interested in getting a seat on the court."

He termed the alleged plan "blackmail" but refused to name any Republicans as being a party to it. News of the plan "just filtered through" to him, Lesinski said.

"I don't want to create any animosities and I hope they'll revise their position," he said. "I just want to assure them I'll not compromise the interests of the people of our state for my own personal ambition."

Amendment Pushed

Lesinski's charge injected a new partisan note into the already confused situation which found Republican and Democratic lawmakers warring over the necessity for action to avoid what GOP leaders term "election chaos."

Republicans are pressing for adoption of resolutions to amend the new state Constitution in a May Referendum, primarily to provide that a legislature can be elected this year.

The key proposal in the package would freeze existing House districts for 1964 and set general terms for redistricting of the Senate, while abolishing apportionment provisions of the constitution.

Opposing the effort, Democrats contend there is no need for action until the Michigan Supreme Court rules April 15, or later, on legislative apportionment.

In a 6-2 decision Thursday, the court said it expects the U.S. Supreme Court to render a decision before mid-April establishing a definition of "voter equality" under the U.S. Constitution.

Favored By Romney

The court of appeals bill to which Lesinski referred is a measure setting up districts for the court established by the new constitution.

Introduced this year after an earlier proposal failed in the second special session of 1963, the proposal carries a high priority from Gov. George W. Romney.

At present, it is in the House Ways and Means Committee. Unless it is approved, Lesinski said, "appeals as a matter of right — also provided for in the new constitution — are just going to absolutely break down."

The dead were identified as Joseph C. Cervik, 64, of Dearborn, and Alexander Gosselin, 34, of Dearborn Heights.

Police said Cervik's car crossed the median and struck Gosselin's auto, re-crossed the median and hit a second car, then crossed the median a third time and struck another car.

Union Attacks Playboy Clubs Bunny Manual

WASHINGTON (AP)—Should a Bunny girl be fired for wearing crooked ears?

No, says the AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union.

Neither, says the union, should she be bounced from her job if she doesn't live up to the code of the Playboy Clubs requiring a "well-fitting costume, matching ears, clean and fluffy cottontail."

The union, in a national organizing campaign in behalf of the pretty night club waitresses, wants to substitute orderly grievance procedure for the "Playboy Club Bunny Manual."

Squeezed Into Suits

The union officials announced at a press conference that they are prepared to take legal action under the National Labor Relations Act to protect the rights of the approximately 600 Bunnies who work at Playboy Clubs in New York, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, New Orleans, Phoenix, Miami and Manila.

The union wants to institute shop stewards in place of "Bunny mothers," who now regulate the working conditions of the waitresses in the chain of night clubs founded by Playboy Magazine Publisher Hugh Hefner.

In gathering evidence to make a federal case out of the working conditions of the Bunnies, union officials quote one girl as saying she was squeezed into a uniform "so tight that the zipper caught in my skin." The Bunny mother told her to inhale again, and the result "would have made Scarlett O'Hara blanch," the girl said.

Spies On Job

The union also protests elaborate regulations outlined in the approximately 60-page "Bunny Manual."

Some examples from the manual: An improperly arranged cottontail, it is made clear, could lead to dismissal.

Another thing that disturbs the union is the system of "checkers" who test the Bunnies by trying to get them to break Playboy Club rules.

"Try to date Bunnies. Try to get Bunnies' phone numbers. Invite Bunnies to parties and see if they accept," says the instructions to the Bunny checkers.

This, says the union, is nothing but "espionage on the job."

Senate Starts Debate Monday On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins its historic debate on the civil rights bill Monday.

"We have reached a point where we can no longer evade or avoid this issue," declared Democratic leader Mike Mansfield as he announced he was bringing the controversial measure to the floor.

The way was cleared Friday when the Senate, running behind its timetable, sent to the House by a 53-35 vote the administration's election-year cotton and wheat plan.

The civil rights measure, the most sweeping in this century, is certain to set off a Southern filibuster which some leaders believe may tie up the Senate for months.

But Mansfield said it was time to face the issue and dispose of it "one way or another."

He cautioned, though, that "no senator should be so disillusioned as to think this is going to be an easy matter. Nor should he think, no matter where he comes from, that there is going to be political profit in it."

An early skirmish was already in the offing. A supporter of the measure, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he would attempt Monday to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee for 10 days of hearings.

The administration had bypassed the Southern-led committee in order to get the bill before the Senate. But Morse said he felt it would be better to follow normal procedures.

Approval of two-thirds of the senators—67 if all 100 are present—is needed to invoke cloture, and the margin is difficult to attain.

Morse—and Mansfield has in past expressed similar feelings—apparently feels it would be the better part of valor to follow the customary pattern and not irritate any support.

But Mansfield said he would fight Morse's plan.

Jury Takes Over Kidnaping Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury settled down today to deliberate the case of three men charged with kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr.

One of their considerations: A comment by Federal Judge William G. East before handing them the case Friday that no direct evidence at the trial linked young Sinatra with his abduction.

The defense contended that young Sinatra cooperated in a publicity hoax.

Charged with abducting the 20-year-old singer from a Lake Tahoe, Nev., motel Dec. 8 are Barry Worthington Keenan, 2, Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23, and John Irvine, 42.

Sinatra Jr. was released three days later near his mother's home in Los Angeles after his father paid $240,000 ransom.

After dinner Friday night, the jury met for 48 minutes, then retired for the night in an undisclosed downtown hotel.

Earlier, in his instructions to the nine - men, three - women jury, Judge East said: "If, as the defendants contend, you believe the kidnapping was staged for publicity or the advertising purposes with the prearrangement of Frank Sinatra Jr. or persons in his behalf, then you must acquit on the kidnapping and conspiracy charges."

"But I must comment there is no direct evidence in this case by Frank Sinatra Jr. or persons in his behalf that prearrangements were made for his abduction."

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan, in his closing arguments, called the alleged kidnaping "a vicious crime pulled

Strip-Teaser Scared By Man With Fake Gun

DALLAS (AP)—Seven prisoners staged a spectacular break from the Dallas County Jail Friday and terrorized a former strip-tease dancer who was about to testify in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried 19-year-old Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, as she saw an escapee brandishing what looked like a pistol.

Little Lynn, who worked for Ruby in his Carousel Club, is pregnant and several days overdue for birth.

Five Caught

Four of the men were recaptured shortly after the break about 3:30 p.m. The fifth was recaptured at a Dallas County residence this morning. The other two still were at large today.

The escape wrought shouting confusion in the hallway outside the courtroom where Ruby was on trial, but the session was not interrupted. Few inside were aware of the melee.

"Little Lynn" was being escorted to the women's room by Mrs. Melvin Belli, wife of the head defense lawyer, and Mrs. Rosemary Allen, a sheriff's deputy, when she saw an escapee with a pistol stuck in the back of a hostage, Mrs. Ruth Thornton.

Mrs. Allen shouted for help and then she and Mrs. Belli took "Little Lynn" into the protection of a stairwell, behind a steel door.

Lynn regained her composure after the excitement subsided, and was calm when she took the stand as a witness for the defense.

Pistol Looks Real

Sheriff Bill Decker said the escape began when seven prisoners pushed their way into an elevator as it stopped on the sixth floor near a table where the weekly soap ration was being distributed to prisoners and demanded to be taken to the second floor.

There they took the keys from the jailer operating the elevator and poured into the hallway that runs from 40 or 50 feet to the door of Judge Joe B. Brown's court, where Ruby is being tried for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Two jailbreakers ran into Probate Court. One—Johnny R. Jenkins, 31—was captured by Burnell Hall and H.H. McKay, administrative assistants to the probate judge.

The other man—who wielded a realistic pistol fashioned from soap, cardboard and a pencil and painted black with shoe polish — went into Probate Court. He shoved a pistol in the back of Mrs. Thornton, about 60, widow of a former district judge, and demanded: "Show me the way to get out of this place."

Two At Large

As the escapee and Mrs. Thornton moved toward Judge Brown's court and a stairway leading to the sidewalk, she told newsmen, deputies and spectators to "please step back... please stay back..."

Outside, Deputy Sheriff Charles Player took the fake gun from the prisoner. Other deputies then overpowered him. The prisoner, C. David Gregory, 20, was held on armed robbery charges.

Apprehended shortly after the break in different parts of Dallas were Hersell Crocker, 26, sentenced to life in prison for two robberies, and Tommy P. Calverley, 28, convicted of armed robbery. All four are from Dallas.

Leonard F. Driggers, 29, of Dallas, jailed for alleged theft over $50, was recaptured this morning in a residence in the north part of Dallas County.

Still at large were Randolph R. Hudnall, 21, of West Palm Beach, Fla., being held on robbery charges and for military authorities, and Billy Ray Brock, 36, Dallas, sentenced to 15 years for robbery.

Life Insurance Faces Socialized Govt. Rivalry

The life insurance business in Michigan is changing. The president of the Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters, Inc., told about it Friday noon at a luncheon at Marco's. He was the guest of the Central Upper Peninsula Life Underwriters Association at a meeting attended by 30 Delta and Schoolcraft county insurance salesmen.

City Manager George Harvey presented David M. Bailey of Battle Creek with a welcome to the city and a copy of Escanaba's "Century Book" and said that Delta's life underwriters were just like Bailey, so busy with civic affairs that he wondered how they found time to sell insurance.

Bailey said that the federal government's increasing venture into the field of welfare and security will inevitably affect insurance. He said the insurance industry is concerned about it because of the implications for the security of the American people.

Gov't. Costs More
"Northwestern University made a study," said Bailey "which showed that if $1 in welfare aid were handed out locally it would cost $1.07. If it were handed out by the city government it would cost $1.27 and by the state it would cost $2. But with the cost of administration added it costs the federal government a total of $3 in order to give $1 of welfare aid.

"This is the concern of the insurance industry about putting a medicare program under social security. At last report there hadn't been as little money in the security fund since 1953. We're not even paying for social security as we go now and here we're talking about burdening it with a huge new obligation.

"The government says that it must raise new taxes for education and yet it won't give a taxpayer who is educating his own children a tax exemption of some sort to make it easier for him. It looks as though it prefers a socialistic system to free enterprise."

Insurance for Spouse
Bailey said that the increased life span has not affected life insurance payments as much as might appear in the general statement that people are living half again as long as they used to, because, he said "these people who are living longer are not all living past 65. Much of the increase is in reduction of infant mortality.

Bailey said that trends in insurance purchase include more buying of life insurance for wives, especially in families in the upper income brackets. He explained that this results partly from the great increase in American travel. "People used to say that the wife was a former nurse or teacher and could support the family if the husband died," said Bailey "but what happens if both are wiped out in an airliner crash?"

He said that one effect of the longer life span was on annuities. A man needs a larger portfolio of securities to support him through retirement life than he used to. Bailey said that sales of life insurance are up markedly in Michigan and that there is also a substantial increase in the number of life insurance salesmen, and that their role is changing. Now they work closely with attorneys and trust officers in estate planning, fitting insurance coverage to persons' income and security needs.

Civic Efforts
Young people are being exposed to insurance more in college than they used to be, but the big interest comes with marriage and family responsibilities and the desire to assure adequate family protection. Life insurance coverage should be 5 times annual income, said Bailey.

President Harold Cloutier of the Central U. P. Underwriters Association and Ted Austad, chairman of the underwriters' effort in support of the March of Dimes telethon reported that Delta in 1964 gave $2,624 compared with $2,108 in 1963. The U. P. take was $24,000, up $3,000 from last year in the WLUC-TV program and Marquette County contributed 50 per cent of it, Delta County 12 per cent and 10 other U. P.

Bridge Planned At Stephenson

Two county road commission construction projects costing $120,000 have been added to the State Highway Department's bid-letting scheduled here March 25.

The additional projects call for work in Houghton and Menominee Counties.

Details were announced earlier on six Upper Michigan construction projects costing $1.1 million on which bids will be opened March 25. The added projects are:

Houghton County—2.4 miles of grading, culverts and paving on Rice Lake Rd. east from a point 4.5 miles southeast of Lake Linden, estimated cost $80,000. Completion date Oct. 31, 1964.

Menominee County—A new 88-foot long bridge to carry FAS Route 208 over the Little Cedar River at the south city limits of Stephenson, estimated cost $40,000. Completion date, Aug. 15, 1964.

There is no bridge at the site now. However, there are a number of abutments at the crossing which indicate there was a bridge at the location at one time.

Natural Beauty Tourist Asset

Developments which preserve the natural beauty of locations in the Upper Peninsula were urged by Clarence Roy of the firm of Johnson, Johnson and Roy Inc., landscape architects of Ann Arbor, at the lake and pond workshop sponsored by Michigan State University at Manistique Thursday.

The Upper Peninsula's native beauty is a prime attraction for metropolitan area persons coming to visit here, Roy noted, and completion of I-75 puts the Peninsula within one-day contact of major tourist markets, a point important and decidedly in its favor, he stated.

Roy is a member of the firm which has been contracted by the University to make the $20,000 tourism study just authorized, in cooperation with UPACAP.

In a slide program showing church developments for camping sites, and other developments, Roy showed the pristine beauty of the Michigan woods and water land, including snow scenes, fall color, summer lake scenes.

Use of two-level buildings for separate functions with equal or near equal square foot requirements can conserve site area he noted, and can be constructed in such a way as to disturb the natural setting as little as possible.

A church camp being planned on a lake in northern Lower Michigan was included in the slide material. The buildings will be back from the lake, to preserve the natural shoreline appearance, and they will be concentrated, to use as little as possible of the wooded area.

The Upper Peninsula needs a combination of quality and unique developments to draw visitors through the established tourist areas in Wisconsin and northern Lower Michigan. The U.P. for example, could develop some horse-riding facilities, but tourists could do that closer to their homes in metropolitan areas, so the emphasis should be on what you have here, building on that which is unique to the area.

Slides included studies of existing deer concentrations, snowfall in the peninsula, topography which varies from lowlands in eastern Upper Michigan to the Huron mountain country on the western end, and studies of existing tourist facilities, including those along the northern roads of the peninsula.

Cutter To Open Harbor Mar. 11

The U. S. Coast Guard will send a cutter into Little Bay de Noc harbor as far north as Gladstone on Wednesday, March 11.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce today was advised by the 9th Coast Guard District office at Cleveland of the plan to open the harbor, said Walter Lewke, Chamber manager.

The March 11 opening would be one of the earliest in several years. The Chamber of Commerce was advised of the navigation opening date as part of the program to keep commercial fishing interests informed, and the Chamber relayed the information to local news media.

The Coast Guard further advised that it expects to have cutters break ice into Green Bay harbor shortly after they leave Escanaba.

Last year the first ore boat did not arrive at Escanaba until April 19; this year the first boat is expected to come in before April 1.

Sunday's practice session will feature a round-robin competition between three four-man teams. One candidate, Byron Boyo of Houghton, will not compete because of his excellent showing last week.

Team members will include Charles C. Weber, Houghton and Ray Ganga, Iron Mountain.

Eight ways credit union members
save money!

If you want to save, you have to try. Here are eight methods credit union members use:

1. Save on payday. It's the only day you can!
2. Save as a habit. It's more important to save a dollar regularly than fifty dollars once in a blue moon.
3. Save another dollar. When you make your deposit, add a dollar to it. Squeeze yourself slightly!
4. Borrow when you need cash. Don't break up your savings.
5. Save while you repay your loan. With every payment, a deposit.
6. Save now. It never gets easier!
7. Save with the kids. Open accounts for them, help them get started.
8. Save for a purpose. Keep your objective clear in your mind.

Court Rulings Not Explained

LANSING (AP)—Is the Michigan Supreme Court violating the state constitution by not explaining itself on every decision it makes?

For the record, Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh says the answer is simply, "no." Beyond that, Kavanagh will not comment.

But the question has been asked with increasing frequency in recent weeks as the court, in decisions since Jan. 1, continued its traditional practice of rejecting certain legal requests without explanation.

At issue is whether this practice is a violation of Article VI, Section 6, of the new constitution, which says:

"Decisions of the Supreme Court, including all decisions on perogative writs, shall be in writing and shall contain a concise statement of the facts and reasons for each denial of leave to appeal."

Under the old constitution, the court was under no obligation to explain itself.

New Document Violated?

The question of whether it was violating the new document first was raised by the Vigilance Tax Committee last month after the court, without comment, denied a writ to force legislative consideration of anti-income tax petitions.

George Kuhn, mayor of Berkeley and chairman of the committee, asked the State Bar of Michigan for a "redress of grievances" against the court for the alleged violation.

A member of the attorney general's staff said the VTC "might have a point" in charging the violation of the constitution but was wasting its time asking for the redress, a procedure used to chastize attorneys for offenses.

Nathan Goodnow, president of the state bar, told Kuhn in a blunt return letter that the bar had "neither the authority nor the desire" to follow up his demand.

Since Kuhn's original peler, the question of whether the court is ignoring the constitutional language has been asked by others, including attorneys serving in the legislature.

One House lawyer said he thought the language directed the court to explain itself in all instances.

"But it doesn't," he said, "it would be tough to appeal."

Issue Never Settled
A court source explained that the position of the court is that it is fulfilling the intent of the language by explaining itself on denials of "leave to appeal" from decisions of lower courts, but not on certain others.

"The only cases on which the court is not commenting are those in which it denies an action in the court's jurisdiction or has been before the court previously," the source said.

"This is the way the court interprets the constitution." The record of debate in the constitutional convention shows delegates were split, in lengthy debate, over the meaning of the language and never resolved it completely.

Some delegates intended, the debates show, that the requirement for court comment apply to cases of original jurisdiction as well as cases on appeal from lower courts.

Among these, ironically, was Richard Kuhn, a delegate from Pontiac, and the brother of the Berkeley mayor.

But some lawyers in the convention argued that the court should be free to interpret the language and "work it out as their practice."

Bay Level Under That Of Year Ago

The level of Lake Michigan-Huron and Green Bay-Bay de Noc during February was 0.81 foot below the level in February 1963 and 2.86 feet below the average level since 1860.

The February level was 0.16 foot below the lowest on record in 1926 and 5.75 feet below the highest level record in 1860.

The change from January to February was a decrease of 0.05 foot. The average change for the same period is a decrease of 0.20 foot.

Duck Population Shows Increase Of 17 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mid-winter survey by the Interior Department shows 17 per cent increase in the country's population of ducks and other wildfowl, Rep. T. A. Thompson, D-La., reported Thursday.

The largest increase, Thompson said, was noted in the Mississippi Flyway and particularly in Louisiana. There was a considerable increase in the Central Flyway, a small improvement in the Atlantic Flyway and a small decrease in the Pacific Flyway, he said.

Conboy Foresees Growth In U.P.

The state's bad economic image is believed by the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion to be "moving away."

Bernard M. (Mike) Conboy, director of the department for eight months, expressed doubt that Michigan's image ever was really as bad as it was believed to be at home.

"We are very pleased with the elements of change in this image," he told a team of Detroit Free Press editorial staff members in an interview.

Conboy said that Michigan is regarded as one of the five states with the best understanding of the relationship between science and industry and that industrial developers from all states have been impressed with the interest and support in development in this state.

Conboy said that no significant progress had been made in diversifying Michigan industry in recent years and held out little hope that this course would represent anything more than a long-range solution to the state's problems.

Discussing recruitment of new industries, he said that 13 two-man teams of salesmen and technicians are currently visiting the country to interest them in Michigan expansion.

Three big national companies for the first time have recently established operations in Michigan or are about to establish them, he said, including A. O. Smith Corp., at Ionia, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., at Frankfort and U. S. Plywood Corp., at Gaylord.

He said that his department's efforts are being concentrated on the 259 of the nation's 1,000 largest corporations who currently are doing business in Michigan.

"We are personally contacting every one and making an investigation of their progress in Michigan, which is a prerequisite for their future growth here," Conboy said.

"Studies show that about 27 per cent of their future growth will take place in the Midwest."

He was optimistic about the growth prospects for Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, predicting that within five years the economic picture for these areas will be "exactly the opposite of what it is now."

He noted that four-season resort developments are becoming a powerful trend.

John W. Rice: 1898-1964

Newspapermen are in a better position than most men to eulogize their colleagues. They have access to print.

They don't abuse their position much in preferential praise of their own people although they understand them better than any others because they share their problems in common and thus can more fully appreciate their achievements.

This situation is apt to make more memorable to newsmen the essential character of an editor than his reputation for being first with the news, or crusading, or prophetic.

Copper may be the biggest resource in the Copper Country, but Editor-Publisher Jack Rice of the Daily Mining Gazette of Houghton, who died Thursday, was more interested in the people than in any other thing. It showed throughout his paper. His father had founded it and Jack took it over a quarter century ago after escalating upward through most of the jobs in the editorial department and also serving as an ad salesman.

In death he leaves his paper much better than he found it and that can be said for his home community, too, for while it has faced great economic challenges, it has survived and learned to cope with challenge and this is a greater human achievement than the attainment of affluence under fortunate circumstances.

Jack Rice will be remembered and respected for his devotion to human dignity and to the public welfare. Few knew the Copper Country, which he loved so much, as well as he and none made it more attractive to others than Jack Rice, with his wit and friendliness and devotion.

He was a giant of Upper Peninsula journalism, an unusual figure as an owner-editor-publisher, the Peninsula's greatest exemplar of personal journalism. An era in the Copper Country ends with him, for while there will always be a Gazette, there can never be another Jack Rice.

His salon in the Gazette editorial department is gone now and the Peninsula is the poorer for that. His fellow members of the State Corrections Commission will miss his tales of derring-do in the Upper Peninsula and of its special humor. There will be no more "Rambling at Random" columns by him in the Gazette.

He will be missed by many persons. Some of them live afar and have always thought of the beautiful Copper Country as the special fief of John Warren Rice, who would hear only good of it and who bore its torch as constantly as any miner wore a work lamp on his hard hat in the Quincy or the Tamarack or the Isle Royale.

Exemplary Citizens

Girl Scouting is 52 years old next Thursday. The preamble to the Girl Scouts Constitution states the purpose of the organization thus:

"Inspiring girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens."

In Delta County nearly 150 women recognize the importance of this purpose as they serve as adult members of the Girl Scout movement, guiding more than 800 girls from 7 to 17. These women come from all walks of life, as do the girls they work with. The forces of our complicated society are pulling at them from all directions — there are so many worthwhile efforts in need of assistance—and most of them are active in other organizations. Many hold down full or part-time positions, and all are homemakers.

Their belief in the Girl Scout movement and their faith in the girls they lead inspire them. Almost without exception they look for no special recognition for their volunteer service. Most feel unequal to the task which confronts them.

We live in a world where all too often moral decay corrupts our youth. In the forefront of those who believe in the integrity and capability of the leaders of tomorrow stands the Girl Scout volunteer. May her numbers increase and may she inspire the public with her example of civic service.

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Calling the family doctor for a progress report on the birth of his fourth child, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver was told:

"You've got a new baby."

"What is it?" asked Shriver, husband of Eunice Kennedy, one of the late President Kennedy's sisters.

"We won't be sure for a few days," replied the doctor. "But it looks like a senator."

Campaigning in western New Hampshire, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller got a lift recently from an old friend from his Dartmouth college days, Harold Hinman, founder and president of a boys' school in that sector.

Hinman told a crowd that years ago Rockefeller found himself without gloves on a bitterly cold "football Saturday." But just before his hands turned blue, Rocky dug in his pocket and brought out a pair of woolen socks—which he donned for gloves.

Grimacing at this story aimed at showing his resourcefulness, the governor said: "You've got to have a little imagination to meet the problem."

Nobody ever explained how he happened to have a pair of woolen socks in his coat pocket.

Shriver told a National Press Club audience his new appointment to a second post as head of President Johnson's "war on poverty" is earning him new status in the touch football-minded Kennedy family.

He said Attorney General Robert Kennedy telephoned him the other day and announced: "O. K. Sarge, this week you can play in the backfield."

To make the point that a conventional aircraft carrier sometimes might be a wiser investment than a nuclear-powered flattop, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara told the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy:

"When I left the Ford Motor Co., I had a choice of buying a Ford and letting my daughter spend a year abroad at a university, or buying a Lincoln. The Ford met my needs. It transported me as fast as I wanted to go with the comfort I was willing to accept, and I found it desirable to use the extra funds elsewhere."

The committee chairman, Sen. John Pastore, D-R. I., sighed: "That is the extravagant choice of the rich. I've always wanted a Cadillac, but I've never been able to rise above a Chevrolet."

Rep. William Bates, R-Mass., added drily: "That's better than a wheelbarrow."

Ann Landers

Stop Nagging About Bedtime

Dear Ann Landers: My 15-year-old daughter and I are hopelessly deadlocked over her bedtime. I insist that there must be a way for her to get to bed on weekdays before 11:30 p. m. She says it is not possible.

Charlotte buries herself in a mountain of work just before supper. With luck it may be finished by 10:00. Then there is the hair-rolling job, a leisurely bath and putting out the clothes for the next day. By 11:30 I am worn out from pleading, begging, coaxing and finally ordering her to get to bed.

The only weapon I've been able to dream up is a 25c penalty for every weekday evening Charlotte is up after 11:00 P. M. It hasn't worked worth a darn. She pays up without complaint and continues to poke around every night.

Do you have any suggestions? I'm a nervous wreck from this nightly battle. —COLUMBIA, S. C.

Dear Columbia: Yes, I have a suggestion — get off her back. You say nothing about Charlotte having trouble getting out of bed in the morning. Nor is there any indication that the girl is not getting sufficient rest. Some people require less sleep than others.

As an experiment try this: Say nothing about bedtime for the next ten days. I'll bet Charlotte won't retire one minute later than usual, and she'll probably go to bed earlier if you stop riding her.

Dear Ann Landers: I work in a large office building. The company has provided a lovely ladies lounge for the employees. It makes me sick the way some girls put their dirty shoes on the beautifully upholstered furniture. They wipe lipstick on the walls, throw paper towels on the floor, crush cigarette butts into the rugs and do all sorts of uncouth things.

What baffles me that some of these girls are well-bred young ladies who come from high class homes. One girl is "fancy society" in this town. Can you explain it? —ANN-NOYED

Dear Ann Landers: What do you consider "high-class," "well-bred" or "fancy society." If you mean a monied background, I have news. Money never made a lady out of any female. Some of the wealthiest homes produce the worst slobs. By the same token, I've known plenty of girls, brought up in poverty, who were well-bred and refined. It's training that counts, not loot.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl who has been a faithful follower of your column ever since I was old enough to read.

I broke up with my boy friend two months ago because he wanted me to prove my love. I know I did the right thing, but still it doesn't make life any easier for me. I can't get him out of my thoughts.

Every evening I re-read his letters and gaze at his picture which I took off the dresser and put in the drawer. I keep looking at the little trinkets he bought me and the favors from dances and parties we attended together. I am moved to tears when I play our favorite records.

How can I get over this broken romance? —GRIEVING

Dear Grieving: Stop trying to re-live the past. Toss out the old letters and the trinkets. Return his picture or dispose of it permanently. And put those "favorite" records at the bottom of the pile.

Most important — remember there's nothing like a new romance to help a gal recover from heart trouble.

Staebler Says Michigan Is In Confused State

DETROIT (AP)—Democratic Rep. Neil Staebler blasted Republican Gov. George Romney's leadership Friday night, saying it threatens to turn Michigan's government into the "most confused in the nation."

The Ann Arbor Congressman-at-large and Democratic candidate for governor told a 15th Congressional District rally here that Romney's Congressional redistricting plan has been ruled unconstitutional.

"The legislative redistricting formula he helped ram through the Constitutional Convention also is under a Constitutional cloud," Staebler said.

"We can't be sure today how, when or even from where we are going to elect our legislators and congressmen this year," he said. "As a result people around the country are beginning to ask, 'what's happening in Michigan?'"

Tanker Sinks; 25 Of 30 Saved

ANACORTES, Wash. (AP) — There was no hint of danger as the 504-foot tanker Bunker Hill, her tanks empty, sailed north in the choppy waters of Puget Sound.

That was at 4 a.m. Friday. Two minutes later an explosion tore the ship apart. Two more blasts followed, and she sank in 300 feet of water, presumably taking 5 of the 30 men aboard with her.

The Coast Guard and Navy rescued 25. Three were still hospitalized today.

Search continued for the missing.

The Coast Guard said a board of investigation would meet in Seattle early next week.

The Bunker Hill was bound from Tacoma, Wash., for the Shell Oil Co. refinery at Anacortes to load gasoline for Portland, Ore. She was about 80 miles north of Seattle and 15 miles from her destination.

At 4:02 a.m., at the control tower at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station south of Anacortes, Air Controlman G. B. Mogridge saw the explosion.

A Navy crashboat reached the scene at 4:48 a.m. The Coast Guard sent a helicopter from Port Angeles, Wash.

Peruvians End Stay At Flint

FLINT (AP) — Amid tearful goodbyes, promises of enduring affection and vows to write regularly, 31 Peruvian high school students boarded a bus Friday and ended a two-week visit with Flint families.

The Peruvians, who will travel by bus to Miami and then fly back to Lima, Peru, participated in "Operation Amigos," a student exchange idea started by the Miami Herald and supported by other Knight newspapers to enable Latin American teenagers to meet their American counterparts.

"I think they had a wonderful time and so did the Flint kids," said Dr. Allen Mathern, Flint coordinator for Operation Amigos and director of community services for Flint Community Junior College, one of five schools that participated in the program.

"They were amazed that every home they visited had a telephone and even more amazed that American factory workers own their homes and have their own cars—sometimes two," he said. "They had a ball—a party almost every night in one of the homes."

March Storm Brings Snow, Wind And Rain

By The Associated Press
A Great Lakes storm brought snow, sleet, rain and wind today to the Mississippi Valley and east to the Appalachians.

Four inches of snow fell in Marquette, Mich., along Lake Superior's southern shore. Sleet slickened southern Wisconsin and it rained in cities near the southern end of Lake Michigan.

Hats flew in Chicago, where O'Hare International Airport reported gusts of up to 54 miles-an-hour. Temperatures dropped as much as 10 degrees in one hour along southern Lake Michigan.

Cooler weather in the Northeast slowed the flow of ice jams brought on by a thaw and flooding was reported generally easing.

Miguel Hidalgo, the "Priest of Dolores," was known as the "Father of Mexican Independence."

Gen. MacArthur Fools Surgeons

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur — minus his gall bladder and a crop of dangerous gallstones—headed today down the road to recovery. And he could count his blessings.

The old soldier apparently fooled the top-flight surgeons who operated on him for three hours Friday at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the Army's surgeon general, told a reporter later that the finding that MacArthur's symptoms of "obstructive jaundice" were due to a mechanical blockage of his bile system by gallstones rather than something worse, including cancer, was a surprise. Heaton had said before the operation that "we hope and pray" that this would be so—but he evidently had his fingers crossed.

Against the general—and in favor of a finding of malignancy—were his 84 years and a sharp loss of weight during the past few months while concurrently exhibiting a jaundiced skin.

But, while gallstones—ranging in size "from peas to big beans" in the words of Heaton—were found packed in MacArthur's gall bladder and many others were found plugging a key bile duct, that was the most critical finding.

"No evidences of malignancy were found" either in those organs or in other parts of the abdomen where the surgeons probed long and carefully.

Glenn Treated In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., spaceman turned politician, underwent treatment for a brain concussion today in hospital familiar from his astronaut days.

Glenn, who bumped his head on a bathtub in his apartment Feb. 26, was transferred Friday from Columbus, Ohio, to Wilford Hall Hospital on Lackland Air Force Base.

The 42-year-old Ohio senatorial candidate, who quit the U.S. space program to go into politics, has been at the hospital several times previously to undergo physicals and tests as an astronaut.

Doctors would not speculate on how long he would be in Wilford Hall. However, Dr. Earl Brannon Jr., chief of orthopedic surgery, said in a news conference:

"We're almost sure he'll be out by April 1."

Glenn, who had planned to retire from the Marines March 1, is now scheduled to be mustered out April 1. He is expected to immediately swing into his campaign for the Ohio Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio.

Dr. Brannon, who accompanied Glenn on the six-hour flight to Texas and who has worked with him during previous visits to the hospital, pronounced the former astronaut in good condition.

Water Supply Is Treated

The City of Manistique Friday afternoon made a preliminary, light treatment of water supply with copper sulphate crystals to control algae, a small growth believed responsible for poor taste quality. The water is safe for drinking, City Manager S. C. Gesko Jr. has reported.

The algae growth is believed to have been aggravated by mild winter and much sunlight.

Initial treatment was made by putting crystals into flowing water, from a boat used between Intake dam and the railroad bridge. A major treatment is scheduled Monday from an installation in the river, with 24-hour dispersion.

A representative of the U.S. Geodetic service will be here to assist with flow meter computations.

The city had hoped to treat on an impoundment basis, by closing brewery dam gates. However, even in low water there is heavy flow from the bridge dam, blasted in 1961 in an effort to reduce Indian Lake water levels in a high water crisis.

Here for the work Friday were Leland Anderson of Newberry, district fisheries supervisor for the Michigan Department of Conservation and Cletus Courchaine, field engineer for the Michigan Department of Health, Escanaba.

House of the Week

Nook Could Start Trend

CLASSIC COLONIAL: This fine traditional home contains four (or five) bedrooms. Its main attraction—an innovation in current housing—is a “conversation pit” two steps below the living room which lets you save wear and tear on the formal furnishings but still enjoy the pleasant surroundings.

A “Conversation pit” tucked in the corner of the living room of this classic two-story home so successfully fills a need of present day living that the idea might well become the newest housing trend.

It provides a nook that's neither totally formal nor totally informal—precisely what has been needed ever since the emergence of the family room which brought rather severe, and not altogether satisfactory, changes in America's living patterns.

Architect Herman H. York, who designed this fine traditional home as H-19 in the House of the Week series, explains his innovation:

“The family room never was intended to completely take over the function of a basement rumpus room, but that's what has happened in many cases. Nor was it designed to eliminate all use of the living room, but there are many families who never even go into the living room any more.

H-19 STATISTICS

A traditional two - story home with four (or five) bedrooms and four baths. The first floor contains 1,686 square feet not counting the 452-square-foot garage. The second floor contains 1,205 square feet. There is a full basement. The over-all dimensions are 64'4" wide by 45'8" deep. Plan shows side entry garage, but garage doors may be located in front if minimum 28' side entry area is not available.

“This ‘conversation pit,’ as I call it, provides a place for relaxing, reading, TV viewing and the like, which is apart from the living room but still a part of it.”

In other words, this innovation lets you save wear and tear on the good furniture—something the family room originally was designed to do—but still allows you to enjoy the pleasant surroundings.

FLOOR PLANS: This arrangement is perfectly attuned to current living requirements. Note the abundance of closet and storage space; the attention given to informal daily living; the luxuriousness of the sleeping areas. The garage doors may be located on the front if the size of the plot prohibits side entry.

The house also has a first floor informal room, one which customarily would be designated the family room. But York calls it what it actually is: a recreation room. He doesn't underestimate its importance (indeed he selected it instead of the living room as the location of the fireplace) but he recognizes it is not, at least as far as the adults in most families are concerned, the total answer to informal yet gracious living.

The house contains a basic area of 1,686 square feet, the first floor living area. There are 1,205 square feet of living area upstairs. The garage adds 452 square feet. Over-all dimensions are 64'4" wide by 45'8" deep.

Additional Details

In all his designs York seems to agree with the poet who spoke of “the beauty of simplicity.”

This house has the uncluttered elegance of colonial design. There is a minimum of brick accenting the wood and wrought iron portico at the formalized main entrance. The balance of the exterior is finished in wood shingle, either sawn shingles or light weight shakes. York recommends natural shingles with white trim and shutters; the brick provides all the additional color needed.

Complementing the angled forms of the exterior are the graceful curves carefully designed inside.

A curved stairway with a plant arrangement in front graces the foyer. Opposite it, the wall of one of the two coat closets also is curved. Another curve is used at the two-step entrance to the conversation pit from the living room, a thoughtfully subtle continuation of the theme.

A large powder room located behind the staircase is easily accessible from all major downstairs living areas. The second downstairs bath, complete with stall shower, also is ideally located. It allows the adjoining spare room to be a self-contained overnight guest suite, and it also is convenient to the terrace. Its shower would be especially appreciated if a backyard pool ever is added.

The housekeeping area is a nicely arranged ensemble featuring a step-saving U-shaped kitchen, with breakfast room adjoining on one side and laundry-mud room on the other.

Upstairs, four bedrooms are carefully arranged around a minimum of central hall space. Closet area is abundant in all the rooms, as a glance at the accompanying floor plan will show; there is even a walk-in linen closet.

Should the size of the plot prohibit location of the garage doors on the side (a minimum of 28' of clearance is necessary), they can be placed in front without upsetting the architectural balance.

Man Of Year

Sidney D. Foster was presented with the Lion's Club annual achievement award at a meeting of the club Monday night, the presentation was made by J. P. Rahilly, who was similarly honored in 1960.

It was through Foster's negotiations with the Joy family in Detroit, without the knowledge of anyone, that they decided to contribute $225,000 to aid in paying for the new hospital here. Mr. Foster wanted a hospital, but, he disliked the thought of additional taxes.

After High School and college, Mr. Foster worked as a salesman in the Flint area two years, and returned to his home town, where in 1924 he took over Foster's Hardware following the death of his father J. C. Foster. He recently opened a fine new Hardware store in S. Newberry Ave. with his son James.

He has served as Village President, a Past Master of the Masonic Lodge, and been an active worker in many civic affairs, and in the Presbyterian church, where he is a life long member.

Ford Times, which devoted a page of its July, 1963 Henry Ford Centennial issue to Escanaba's House of Ludington, has done it again in its March issue.

The Centennial issue pictured the hotel in a water color painting by a Ford Times artist, Arthur J. Barbour, and gave the Ludington's recipe for its famed cheese cake.

The March issue features the Ludington “in Escanaba, Michigan” in an ink sketch illustrating an article on “What's happened to the Small-Town Hotel?” by William Kemsley. Lou McMurray did the drawings.

The articles says “There are some real travel treasures tucked away in remote towns across America. And most of us will purposely avoid them on our vacation trips this year. For these treasures are to be found in some of the old inns and hotels in small towns. Few of us care to take chances on old hotels, though, when we can spend the night in a modern luxury motel and take for granted such comforts as air conditioning, television, room phones, heated swimming pool, and playground for the kiddies.”

Among America's treasures the article mentions the Wayside Inn at Sudbury, Mass., The Jared Coffin House on Nantucket Island; Deerfield Inn in Deerfield, Mass.; Silvermine Tavern, in Norwalk, Conn., the Colonial Inn at Concord, Mass. the old Perry-davis Hotel in Petoskey, Mich. “Another small town hotel in Michigan which has been

Four Tourney Favorites Sidelined In Districts

By The Associated Press

Four more pre-tourney favorites fell to the wayside as the State High School District Basketball Tournament moved into its final night of action.

The biggest shock was the demise of Dundee, ranked second in the final Associated Press poll. Lowly Ypsilanti Lincoln, a team Dundee whipped twice to take the Huron League title, rallied in the fourth quarter for a 61-59 victory.

Another Class B power, eighth-ranked Marlette, was thrashed soundly by Caro 72-56, and Class C stalwart Muskegon Christian was bounced by Byron Center 61-52 in a semifinal round. Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart ousted Coleman 63-54 in a battle between two ranking "C" powers.

Meanwhile, six rated Class A juggernauts moved up a notch. Detroit Northwestern, Hamtramck, Benton Harbor and Muskegon Heights all won district titles Friday night.

Detroit Northern and Albion move into semifinals tonight.

Northwestern eliminated Detroit Cooley 74-47; Hamtramck held on to edge Detroit Pershing 66-65, Benton Harbor ousted Niles 96-84, Muskegon Heights slipped past Muskegon 77-69. Northern edged Detroit University of Detroit 63-58 and Albion blitzed Coldwater 85-60.

Lincoln beat Dundee, now 14-2, by outscoring the losers 27-8 in the final quarter.

Meanwhile, Class B power River Rouge unleashed its second straight 100-point game as it demolished Inkster Cherry Hill 101-59. The Panthers built up a 51-14 halftime lead and coasted to their 18th victory in 19 games.

Sandusky, Allegan and Detroit Holy Redeemer also continued on the trail to East Lansing.

O'Hara Betters Own Indoor Mile Mark To 3:56.4

CHICAGO (AP) — Amazing Tom O'Hara lowered his own indoor mile record to 3:56.4 Friday night and confidently announced he possibly could have run two seconds faster.

A Chicago Stadium crowd of 18,307—a record turnout for the Chicago Daily News Relays—cheered the frail-looking, 21-year-old Loyola of Chicago senior to his blistering effort.

Three weeks ago the 130-pound O'Hara knocked two seconds off Jim Beatty's indoor mark with a 3:56.5 in the New York AC Games at Madison Square Garden.

Last week in the Knights of Columbus Meet in the Garden he did 3:58.5, setting an indoor 1,500-meter mark of 3:43.6 en route.

He passed the 1,500 juncture in 3:41.6 Friday night.

Not until just before the race did the red-haired Irish lad know that Jim Irons of the Toronto Olympic Club was in the field primarily to pace him through the first half-mile—and what a job Irons did.

With Irons showing the way, O'Hara swung through the first quarter in 58.1 and hit the half with a sizzling 1:58.8.

Irons dropped back and O'Hara's most feared opponent on the board oval, Jim Grelle of the Los Angeles Track Club, moved up.

Then O'Hara opened up, passing the three-quarters in a remarkable 2:59.8. At this point, Grelle was a beaten man. O'Hara just cruised the final 440 in 56.6.

"I honestly think I could have run at least one second faster and possibly two," said O'Hara, whose last indoor mile of the season will be in Cleveland next Saturday.

"I felt extra good at the end. That first quarter was my best because of the terrific pace by Irons. Around the half-mile mark, I decided to make my move because I wanted to open up as big a lead as possible on Grelle, who has a tremendous final kick."

"I knew all through the race that I could run faster if I wanted to let out."

No other meet records fell. The pole vault mark of 16 feet was tied by C. K. Yang of Pasadena, Calif., and Henry Wadsworth, Miami, Fla.

As Expected, Terrell Wants Shot At Clay

NEW YORK (AP)—Tall Ernie Terrell sat there in his dressing room in Madison Square Garden and surprised absolutely no one.

"I want Cassius X," proclaimed the third-ranked heavyweight who had just failed—thoroughly, completely and absolutely—to distinguish himself in a dreary, highly unprofessional 10-round decision over Germany's Gerhard Zech.

"I can beat Cassius X (a reference to heavyweight champ Cassius Clay) any day of the week," said the 6-foot-6 Terrell, who did little to demonstrate it in the nationally televised bout Friday night.

Twice in the early rounds the clumsy Zech, a one-time Berlin butcher boy, who fights from a left-handed stance, was wrestled through the ropes, sitting there sprawled and awkward while busy referee John Colan pulled Terrell off of him.

Terrell, from Chicago, was wrestled off his feet in the sixth. Still again, he almost went through the ropes when he charged Zech and the German lumbered out of the way.

Still again, in the fifth, Zech came out of one of the numerous wrestling matches in a corner off-balance and stooped, his gloves touching the floor. Terrell stood over him and pounded on his back.

Terrell, who weighed 266½ for his first fight in seven months, knocked the German down twice with flashing right-hand leads to the jaw in the first round, Zech taking a nine-count on each and peering beseechingly at his corner.

He seemed unable to defend against the right and suffered a cut under the right eye in the second, a bloody nose in the fourth. Time and again Terrell spun him with the right hand, and ended up directly behind the bothered, bewildered German, who weighed 214.

All officials scored for Terrell. Judge Arthur Aidala and the referee called it 6-1, including the round penalty, and judge Marvin Goldberg had it 5-4-1. The AP scored for Terrell 6-2-2. It was Terrell's 35th win against four losses. Zech is now 27-2-1.

There is nothing Detroit Tiger Manager Charlie Dressen likes better than a young player who will listen to his advice and try to do exactly what he is told.

This was the case Friday when Dick Egan pitched the last three innings of an intra-squad game. Dressen had told Egan earlier this week to try and develop a screwball and the big left-hand-

Egan Impresses Tiger Manager

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — er got his first chance to use it against some of the Tiger regulars.

Despite the fact that rookie pitchers Fritz Fisher and Joe Sparna looked good while hurling the first six innings of the game—won by the regulars 7-3—Dressen said he was most impressed with Egan.

"I told him to work on the screwball because I thought he needed another pitch," Dressen explained. "Every time he threw it—I guess he tried it about a half a dozen times—no one even came close to it."

Though the game was billed as a contest between the regulars and farmhands, only two of the players who saw action for the regulars had not been here since the opening of the early camp three weeks ago.

Egan relieved Fisher in the seventh inning, and Jack Hamilton came in for Sparna and pitched the last three innings for the regulars.

The winners scored six of their runs in the first two innings but only yone was earned.

Jake Wood opened the game with a long triple to left center but pulled a muscle in his right leg while running the basepaths and retired in the next inning. The injury was not serious and the Detroit utility man was told to limit his running for the next few days.

Both Fisher and Sparna allowed just four hits in their 6-inning stints. Fisher faced only 13 batters in his last four innings.

Hamilton struck out five in the three innings he worked.

The Tigers were to start their practice an hour early today because a Florida Southern College game was scheduled this afternoon.

Iba Has Chance For 700th Win

By The Associated Press

It's been a struggle, but Hank Iba, one of the best known coaches in college basketball, finally may notch the 700th victory of his coaching career tonight.

"The Iron Duke" of Oklahoma State, as Iba is called, sends his Cowboys against Kansas in an effort to join Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky and the retired Phog Allen of Kansas in the select 700-victory circle.

No. 700 seemed a cinch for Iba a month ago after the Cowboys chalked up victory No. 698. But then followed four straight defeats to Nebraska, Iowa State, Missouri and Colorado. The Cowboys finally hit No. 699 last week against Nebraska.

Things went according to form Friday night as unbeaten and top-ranked UCLA won its 26th straight, fourth-ranked Duke reached the final of the ACC championship tourney and fifth-ranked Wichita beat Drake in the playoff to determine the Missouri Valley Conference representative in the NCAA tourney.

UCLA withstood a late rally by Southern California to down the Trojans 91-81 and complete its regular season without a blemish. Duke defeated North Carolina 65-49 and needs only to defeat Wake Forest in the ACC final tonight to qualify for the NCAA. Wichita overcame Drake 58-50 in a close game until Kelly Pette put the Shockers ahead for good at 44-42.

Immediately after its defeat Drake accepted an invitation to play in the NIT at New York. That completed the 12 team NIT field. New Mexico having accepted a bid earlier in the day.

The San Francisco Dons won their 17th straight, 80-58 over qualified for its ACC title game with Duke by defeating Clemson 86-64.

In other Friday games, Stanford defeated California 61-59 in overtime, Washington downed Washington State 57-52, Syracuse whipped Connecticut 58-49 and Providence rallied to defeat Brown 72-67 in a game that originally was scheduled for to-

Michigan Tech worked overtime and lost 3-2 to Denver while Michigan coasted to an easy 9-4 victory over Michigan State in Western Collegiate Hockey Association action Friday night.

Denver's Myles Gillard tied the score with 2½ minutes left in regulation time and then Emory Sampson slammed in the winning goal at 4:30 in the overtime at Denver. Bud Dart scored both Tech goals in the second period.

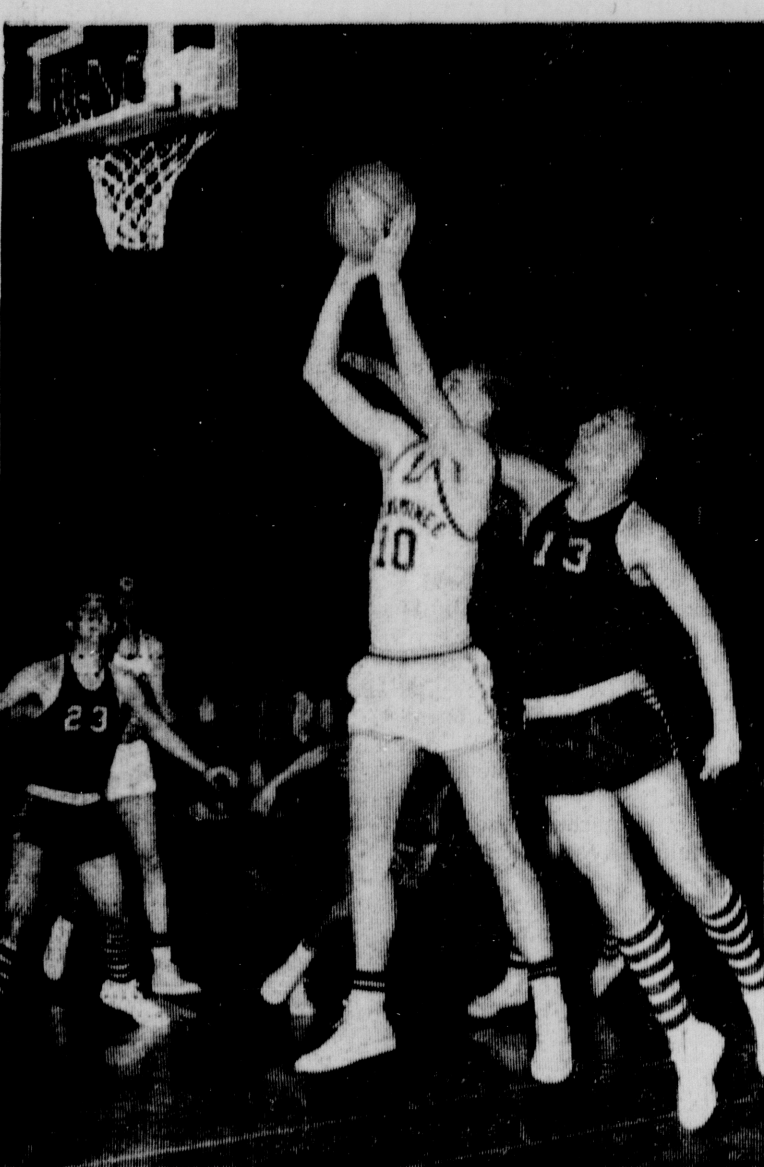

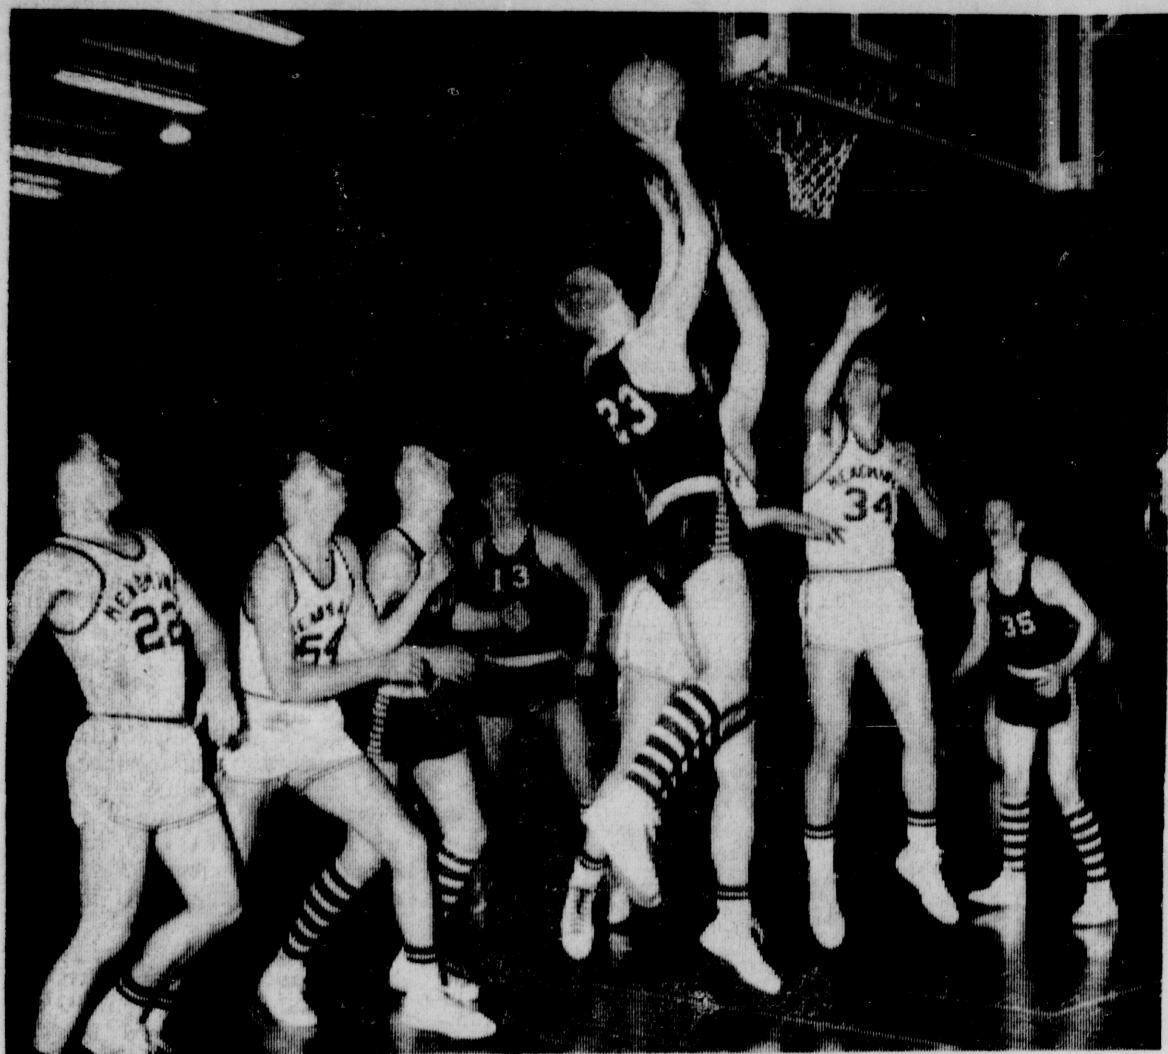

Michigan scored three goals in the first period and five in the second in whipping MSU at East Lansing. Wilfred Martin had two of the Wolverines' tallies.

The victory boosted Michigan's record to 11-2 in league play. Michigan State is 1-11-1. The two teams play again tonight at Ann Arbor.

Minnesota beat North Dakota in another WCHA game, ensuring a third place finish for the Gophers. But it's up to the Minnesota faculty whether the Gophers may play in the WCHA playoffs, which come at final examination time. Normally, school rules prohibit games during the exam period.

 8 — Menominee vs. Marquette

The Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils were struck down by a fatal illness that has swept the Upper Peninsula this season. Coach Clair Wilhelm's Great Lakes Conference champs, odds-on favorite to capture the Class A district tournament crown, were upset at the hands of a scrappy band of Menominee Maroons at the Escanaba gym Friday night, 70-56.

The latest in a long list of startling upsets was born in the second quarter before a sparse crowd, caused in part by a sudden snow storm in the area late Friday afternoon. In that period, Coach Harvey Filpula's eagles completed a comeback bid that wiped out a 10-point Soo lead and vaulted Menominee into an 11-point advantage.

By virtue of last night's surprising triumph, Menominee will be back in action tonight to face Marquette for the district and Upper Peninsula title. The winner will advance to the Class A regional tournament at Grand Rapids next weekend. Tonight's game will begin at 8.

The Blue Devils took early command and seemed headed for a lopsided victory in the first period, sweeping to an early 13-3 lead and maintaining the advantage to 21-11 with seconds remaining in the quarter.

Menominee popped in a pair of late goals to cut the margin to 21-15 at the end of the stanza, then fired in four straight field goals to open the second period with a 23-21 lead over the stunned Blue Devils.

Sophomore Jim Uecke, who came off the bench after the first quarter, triggered the Menominee attack that shattered Soo's earlier poise. The Maroons threw a fierce man-to-man press on the Blue Devils and took the halftime intermission with a 36-27 cushion.

Uecke scored nine points in the second quarter, three more than the entire Soo team.

The Blue Devils never got closer than seven points in the second half as the Maroons cut-positioned their taller foes under the buckets and drove Soo crazy with a spraking exhibition of passing and shooting.

In addition to outscoring Soo by five field goals, the Maroons canned 16 of 28 gift tosses. The Blue Devils hit on 12 of 19 from the line.

Four Maroons scored in double figures, led by Rich Dufresne with 16 points. Soo's 6 foot 5 inch senior center, Dennis Porter, took individual scoring honors for the night with 19 points.

The defeat was Soo's sixth against 11 victories this season. Menominee will carry an 11-6 record into tonight's game against Marquette. The Redmen have won 12 of 16.

Clay Gets New Muslim Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black Muslims Friday night bestowed upon heavyweight champion Cassius Clay the name "Muhammad Ali."

Clay first heard the news of the Muslim honor over radio station WWRL in a weekly broadcast made by the head of the religious sect. Neither Clay nor his associates knew the meaning nor the significance of the honor the Black Muslim leader had bestowed upon him.

The heavyweight champion merely shook his head over a dish of ice cream and said: "I am honored."

 8 — Eben vs. Trenary

ROCK — Eben and Trenary will battle it out for the Class D district basketball championship here tonight at 8 after capturing semifinal victories Friday night.

Coach Steve Ellis' Trenary Comets sidlined the Perkins Yellowjackets 51-46 with a surge in the final three minutes of the game.

The Eben Eagles, under first year coach Jim Depew, caught the Rapid River Rockets in the final six minutes of action and won 67-56.

Perkins went ahead of Trenary 46-45, on a field goal by Jim Brandstrom with 2:52 remaining in the game but Wayne Lusardi hit a bucket 20 seconds later to put the Comets back in front, 47-46. Perkins was unable to score a point after that and the Comets played possession style ball through the final two minutes.

Three Trenary players reached double figures, led by 5 foot 11 inch senior center Roy Aho with 19 points. Gary Flynn chipped in 14 and Mike Hawley 10 as the Comets ran their record to 17 victories in 20 starts. Perkins was paced by Len Eagles with 14 points and Dick LaChance with 11.

Coach Barney McCall's Rapid River Rockets led Eben all the way until the 5:40 mark in the fourth quarter when Stan Smith hit a field goal to tie the score at 50-50.

It was tied twice more at 52-52 and 54-54 before the surging Eagles put the victory on ice with six straight free throws in the closing minutes.

Free throws proved the difference between the teams as both quints hit on 22 shots from the field. Eben converted 23 of 31 chances from the foul line while Rapid made 12 of 20.

The Eagles hit on 12 of 17 free throws in the fourth quarter alone.

Rapid River's Doug Moss fouled out with 1:12 remaining in the game and the Rockets trailing 60-54. Moss closed out his junior season with 491 points.

Fat Larrabee, sophomore guard from Rapid River, took individual scoring honors with 22 points.

Eben had four players in double scoring figures, led by Andy Freberg with 18. Smith added 14, Bill Carlson 13 and Earl Norman 12.

Eben will carry a record of 15 victories in 19 starts into tonight's finals against Trenary.

Pascual Wins Raise In Pay

By The Associated Press
 His financial differences with Minnesota settled, Camilo Pascual turned his concentration today toward becoming the first American League pitcher in 10 years to win 20 or more games in three consecutive seasons.

The Twins' sparkling right-hander signed his contract Friday after spirited negotiations with club President Calvin Griffith. Pascual said he received a $7,500 raise, giving him $46,500 for 1964.

The 20-game feat the Cuban native could achieve isn't rare by any means. But 10 years without such an accomplishment is.

Bob Lemon was the last American Leaguer to do it, winning 22, 21 and 23 games in 1962-53-54. He also did it in 1948-49-50.

Pascual won 21 and lost nine last season after finishing 20-11 in 1962. His 2.47 earned run average in 1963 was the third lowest in the league and the best for a right-hander.

The 30-year-old hurler also led the league in strikeouts for the third consecutive season, fanning 202 batters.

The spring season for the New York Mets began Friday night — in typical Mets' fashion. They lost 6-4 to the Mexico City Reds in the first of three exhibition games in that city.

The game was played before 24,000 screaming fans in a stadium whose name perhaps offered a suggestion for Mets' Manager Casey Stengel — Social Security Park.

Ferris To Face High Point '5'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ferris State of Big Rapids, Mich., has been paired with High Point, N. C. in next week's first round of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Basketball tournament here.

Pairings for the 32-team tournament were announced late Friday.

The Ferris-High Point game will be played Tuesday (at 1 p.m.). Ferris won 19 of its 22 regular season games. High Point brings a 23-3 record into the tournament.

Gymnasts Vie In Madison

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Michigan launched defense of its Big Ten gymnastics championship by taking a slim lead over Iowa Friday in the 56th annual meet.

Michigan rolled up 119 points to 110 for Iowa, setting the stage for a showdown in today's finals.

Trailing in order were Michigan with 81.5 points, Wisconsin 62.5, Illinois 38, Minnesota 27 and Indiana 11. Ohio State was scoreless in the qualifying round of eight events.

Jim Curzi of Michigan State led the all-around championship race with 516.75 points. Arno Lascari of Michigan was fourth with 507.50.

Lascari easily qualified in launching defense of his individual titles in the horizontal bar, the parallel bars and the side horse.

Veteran Golfers Pace Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Two victory-starved veterans of the golf tour wars — greying Fred Hawkins and dapper Ken Venturi — led the 69-pro field into the third round of the $30,000 Pensacola Open today.

Hawkins, a 40-year-old golfer from El Paso, Tex., had the upper hand with his nine-under-par 135. He held a one-stroke advantage over the 32-year-old Venturi, who shot the tournament's hottest round, a 65, Friday on the 6,380-yard par-72 Pensacola Country Club course.

Venturi, one of the top stars of tournament golf in the late 1950s when he scored 10 victories, hasn't won since the 1960 Milwaukee Open. Most of the intervening time he has been hampered by a muscle spasm. However, Hawkins has been through a much longer dry spell. He has been a consistent

Horse Trainer Is Suspended

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Horatio Luro, one of America's best-known horse trainers, was under suspension tonight pending an investigation of a drug found in the urine of one of his horses.

Luro, trainer of Northern Dancer, one of the early Kentucky Derby favorites, was suspended Friday by Gulfstream Park stewards after the drug procaine was found in urine of Gay Lothario, winner of the 10th race on Wednesday's opening program.

Northern Dancer, winner of the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah last Tuesday, was not involved. Luro, who has trained such horses as Decidedly and Victoria Park, was ordered to appear before Gulfstream Park stewards Tuesday.

"He really had nothing to do with it," said Dr. Francis Southard, a veterinarian who said he had been treating Gay Lothario for a throat infection and using a medicine known as tetracycline.

He said that in order to speed up the treatment, he used aziumycin, which contains a preservative of procaine penicillin.

Southard said when he saw Gay Lothario's name on Wednesday's program, he told Luro it would be all right for the horse to run because he believed the effect of the drug would be worn off by then.

"This was strictly an unintentional thing on my part," Southard said. "Luro should not be implicated in any way."

Former Spartan Hurt In Fight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two Kansas City men, sought in connection with a fight in which former Michigan State football star Ed Budde was seriously injured, surrendered to police Friday.

Budde, a 265-pound lineman with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League, was hospitalized in serious condition with a fractured skull, suffered during a fight at a cocktail lounge.

The two men were identified as John Vito Calia and Gus Charles Fasone, both 27.

A companion of Budde, Frank Huffman, said a fight started as he and Budde were leaving the lounge.

Huffman said Budde was fighting with one of the men when the second ran to a back room, returned with an 18-inch metal pipe and hit Budde on the head four or five times, police said.

Swagart Leads Quint In Stirring Comeback

MANISTIQUE — Coach Norm Jahn's Cooks Clippers climaxed one of basketball's all-time great comebacks here Friday night by upsetting Nahma 72-66 for the Class D district tournament championship.

Most of the players on the Cooks team that stunned the Central League champs were members of teams that were unable to win a single game for two seasons only a few years ago.

It was a different story here last night as the Clippers roared from behind in the second half to overtake Coach Owen Peterson's Arrows and win going away.

Larry Swagart, a 5 foot 7 inch senior, was a sophomore when Cooks snapped a 56-game losing streak by edging Bark River-Harris 47-46 on Feb. 16, 1962.

Swagart enjoyed one of his finest nights against Nahma in the finale, jamming in 13 field goals and four free throws for 30 points.

Joining Swagart to form a devastating one - two punch against the Arrows, who had beaten Cooks twice in the regular season, was sophomore Phil Hartman. The 5 foot 8 inch sharpshooter hooped eight field goals and eight free throws for 24 points.

The Clippers put the stoppers to big Pat Groleau, Nahma's Upper Peninsula scoring king, holding him to eight field goals and two free throws for 18 points. It matched Groleau's lowest single game total of the season.

One of the Upper Peninsula's all-time scoring greats, Groleau finished his senior season with 634 points, tops in the Peninsula thus far this season. Groleau and forward Don Johnson fouled out for Nahma late in the fourth quarter of last night's battle.

Nahma pulled out to 16-12 lead in the first quarter and held on for a slim 34-31 halftime edge as Cooks began its bid for an upset.

The Clippers, flashing balanced scoring with Swagart, Leonard Caldwell, Hartman and Bruce Swagart on target, took command in the third quarter. They fired in 24 points and led 55-53 going into the finale in which they outscored the Arrows 17-13.

Larry Swagart's five points on two field goals and a free throw paced the Clippers in the hectic stretch drive.

Behind Groleau's 18 points for Nahma came Johnson with 15 and Bill Labadie with 13.

The Clippers used the free throw line as a springboard to victory, pumping in 14 of 21 shots from 16 Nahma personal fouls. The Arrows, who out-

Michigan Sets Wrestling Pace

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Defending champion Michigan withstood the loss of 1963 titlist Rick Bay because of injury and took a commanding lead Friday night in the opening of the two-day Big Ten Wrestling Meet at the University of Wisconsin.

The Wolverines piled up 47 points and sent three grapplers into Saturday's finals. They also gained three spots in the consolation finals, where a victory is worth four points.

Iowa had only an outside chance of overtaking Michigan after earning 38 points and placing two in the championship finals and three in the consolation windup.

Northwestern and Indiana were tied with 31 points scored in preliminary, quarter-final and semifinal action. They were followed in order by Illinois with 29 points, Wisconsin 26, Minnesota 22, Purdue 15, Ohio State 13 and Michigan State 5.

Bay, the 1963 157-pound champion, started defense of his title with a 4-2 preliminary round victory over Glen Mitchell of Ohio State, but then tore a muscle in his right shoulder while defeating Dale Smith of Purdue 4-2 in the semifinals.

Bay came out heavily taped for his semifinal match with Lee Gross of Minnesota and grappled to a standoff for one period. However, he was forced to quit when thrown to the mat in the second session, losing on a forfeit after 4:29 of action.

Wagner Figures Park Is Costly

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It is the resolute view of Leon Wagner that the Los Angeles Angels paid him too little to hit in a park that was too big.

He says playing at Chavez Ravine last season cost him about 25 home runs and 20,000.

The Angels should have insisted that the fences in the Dodger-owned ball park be moved in, Leon declared, "and instead of trading me they should have doubled my salary."

Wagner, now with the Cleveland Indians, said the Angels paid him substantially less than was popularly supposed.

"It came out in the paper that I was getting $35,000 last year," he said, "but it was actually around $27,000."

Wagner said he hadn't really expected to be traded but didn't mind "if it meant getting out of Chavez Ravine."

"That place was made to help pitchers," he said. "You should hit more home runs at home

Campus Bus Line Planned Next Fall At U. of M.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University may have its own bus line running across the sprawling campus next fall.

A local bus line now runs a limited service on the rapidly expanding MSU campus.

The university is studying a package parking-shuttle bus program to be instituted next ant MUS secretary. The bus program would be financed partially through additional student and faculty parking fees.

The plan would incorporate an earlier proposal, approved by the Board of Trustees, prohibiting students from driving their cars on campus between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Cost of purchasing buses or operating the service have not been determined.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.
